

EMIT THEORY OF CHANGE

Theological Premise

Nations will prosper when the righteous lead. - Prov. 29:2

EMIT believes that nations will prosper when we develop God-fearing leaders who follow Christ's example of servant leadership, govern by Divine principles and nurture transformative Kingdom culture.

3 SHORT TERM OUTCOMES Equipped Leaders

- Equipped with pertinent skills and knowledge
- Recruited teams who share their vision
- Connected with other like-minded leaders
- Focused life-purpose
- Motivated and encouraged to bring change

2 Activities

- Enable reporting of impact stories
- Facilitate stakeholder networking and support
- Nurture community transformation programs
- Encourage socio-economic transactions and collaboration
- Train and develop leaders
- Recruit leadership teams

6 Impact

Improved quality of life for those negatively affected by leadership failures in society.

4 MEDIUM TERM OUTCOMES Community Projects

Teams are actively addressing community needs by founding programs that are generous, compassionate and enterprising

They inspire and facilitate systemic change

5 LONG TERM OUTCOMES Transformed Communities

Communities are healthy, thriving with hope for the future

Take ownership of their own well-being

Responding to challenges with vision and determination

1 Theory

Through the development of skilled, ethical leaders, communities and ultimately nations, will be positively impacted and transformed to reflect God's Kingdom on earth.

